

Integration. Innovation. Impact.

Your extended development team for custom AI and enterprise solutions.

DEVELOP: Part of your team

Exfluency DEVELOP is the independent development arm of Exfluency. We bring together some of Europe's top front- and back-end developers to build secure, scalable digital solutions.

From integrations and cloud platforms to mobile applications, we turn complex requirements into working technology.

And while we're working with you, think of us as part of your team.

What We Build

Enterprise Integrations

We connect the systems that run your organisation so they work as one. From authentication and HR to payments, analytics, and AI models, we make sure your technology stack is secure, reliable, and future-proof.

Cloud Applications

We design and build cloud platforms that grow with your business. Whether for collaboration, compliance, or content, our applications scale on demand and keep your operations running smoothly.

Mobile Applications

We bring enterprise capability into the hands of your users. From AI companions that support daily work to secure editor tools, our apps make your data and services accessible anywhere.

Our Process

At Exfluency DEVELOP, we work as an extension of your team. Every project starts with your challenge and ends with a solution that runs in production.

1. Discover

Map your needs, define success, align on outcomes.

2. Design

Select the right architecture, integrations, and technologies.

3. Build

Deliver in agile sprints with transparency and flexibility.

4. Validate

Test, refine, and ensure compliance with your workflows.

5. Evolve

Scale, improve, and support as your needs grow.

Think of us as your development team
for as long as we work together.

Why Choose DEVELOP

Real-world delivery

We don't just talk about solutions – we build and deliver them. From mobile apps to full-scale cloud platforms, our work runs in production at enterprise scale.

Integration at the core

We don't treat AI as a shiny add-on. For us, it's another block in the tech stack – and our strength is connecting those blocks securely and efficiently.

Domain depth

Where content, translation, and multilingual workflows matter, our linguistic expertise sets us apart. Few dev teams can combine technical delivery with this kind of domain knowledge.

Future-proof choice

We build solutions that keep you in control – of your data, your AI models, and your workflows.

No lock-in, no dead ends.

Let's DEVELOP together

At the end of the day, AI and LLMs are just another block in your tech stack. What sets a company apart is how well those blocks are built, secured, and connected. That's where we excel.

Talk to us about your next development challenge – and let's build your next solution together.

sales@exfluency.com